

GEORGETOWN IN FEDERAL GAMES

Manager McNulty Writes
That He Will Use Them to Try Out Material.

ST. JOHN'S AFTER C. U. RELAY TEAM

Annapolitans Want Their Annual
Race—Three High Schools
Will Enter.

Georgetown University, John Hopkins University, and St. John's College of Annapolis, are the colleges which have today given positive assurance that they will be represented in the open hand-off and invitation events on the evening program of the Federal indoor games, in Convention Hall, February 13. Word was received by the Federal games manager this morning from Manager Joseph D. McNulty, of the Georgetown team, that the west end institution will have men in the individual events. The Blue and Gray candidates will have their first workout of the indoor season this afternoon, with a greater abundance of promising material than for several seasons. A good many of the teams will be put in the events of the Federal games in order to get a line on their ability in competition, and so that there may be more favorable distribution of material in the events of the Georgetown indoor meet two weeks later.

Johns Hopkins will have a good string of capable men in most of the individual events, and St. John's will have not only individual entries, but a one-mile relay team. The Annapolis men have asked for their usual annual relay race with the Catholic University, and it is probable that that race will be arranged.

Technical, Business and Western High Schools have already informed Managers Beckett and Stuart that they will have their full squads in the interscholastic championship events in the afternoon. Business and Western have larger squads than usual this year, and the Tech team will be equally as strong. The Cathedral School for Boys and Friends' Select will not only have boys in the individual scholastic events, but be represented by relay teams. Washington School for Boys has announced that it will have every boy who is like a point winner in the afternoon program.

Most of the schools, both local and out of town, expect to fight for the championship cup to be much closer than ever, and they are going after the points for fourth places as eagerly as those for the first place. These additional grade schools have chosen managers of the highest caliber, and will represent them in the grade school championships in the Federal games: Adams, Berrett, Robinson, Grant, Carberry, Arthur, Blake, Emery, Gage, Gales and Seaton. There will be a meeting of all the grade school managers next Saturday afternoon at the department of the Y. M. C. A. building.

MURPHY HAMMERS JOSEPH BEDELL BY CUBS' OWNER

Only Wonder Is He Doesn't
Knock Him Out—Infighting
Does Damage.

NEW YORK, Jan. 11.—Tommy Murphy, the former Pride of Harlem, who now lives among the Flatbush farmers, gave Joe Bedell a hard beating in the ten-round bout that featured the show of the Bedford Athletic Club in Brooklyn, last night.

Bedell weathered the gale, but was handed a terrific beating. Tommy smashing him hard at all times and almost cutting him to ribbons in the clinches. There were no knockdowns, but that Bedell lasted ten rounds was due to his strength and his great ability to take punishment.

Bedell is no slouch, but Tommy had his measure at all stages of the bout. Joe on his recent Western trip, knocked out Ray Bronson in eight rounds. Bronson stayed twenty rounds with Paaky MacFarland and landed fourteen rounds of fighting with Freddie Welsh. Tommy did not waste any time in warming up, but sailed into Bedell right off the reel. He hammered Joe hard in the early rounds, but Joe always came back for more. Tommy got in his heaviest work in the clinches, hammering Bedell hard whenever he got close. Smiling right and left, ten rounds and occasionally getting Bedell with his vicious inside rights, Tommy had his men groaning and screaming in times, but every time the bell intervened, and Bedell came up fresh and strong after the rest. Bedell was a badly battered and weakened athlete at the end and the final sound of the gong was welcome music to his ears.

MILLARD SANDERS,
Veteran Harness Horseman Who Will Resume the Reins.

MILLARD SANDERS WILL DRIVE AGAIN

Famous Turfman to Be Seen on Grand Circuit Tracks
This Year.

Millard Sanders, who was racing up and down the grand circuit thirty odd years ago, when John Span, Orrin Hickok, Charles Marvin, John E. Turner and the Goldsmith brothers were in the zenith of their popularity, is to be seen in grand circuit company the coming season, after an absence of several years from big-racing company.

For the past three seasons Sanders has been training the Stirling Hot horses at Indianapolis, occasionally going to a half-mile track with some promising colts, but devoting all of his attention to the Sidney Dillon stock, with which he has had uniformly good success.

Sanders has driven many a good horse to his mark and to world's records during his career. Long before the high-wheeled sulky had gone out of use he gave Frodo a yearling trotting record of 2:53 1/2, the world's record at that time. It was Sanders, too, who drove Lou Dillon to her 1:30 1/2 at Memphis, and of late Ruth Dillon's 2:05 1/2 for three-year-old pacers likewise established new world's figures. Sanders may take to the races a few of Holt's best Dillon trotters, but only as members of his racing stable. Safe Guard, Sanders' reserve at present at his best racing prospect.

CHANCE CROSSED BY CUBS' OWNER

Manager Says He Will Take
Orendorff, Murphy
Says Not.

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 11.—What promise to develop into another full-fledged row between Frank Chance, captain-manager of the Chicago Cubs, and President Murphy, of the Chicago club, has grown out of the negotiations for Jesse Orendorff, the star catcher of the Los Angeles team, of the Pacific Coast League.

According to Henry Berry, manager of the Los Angeles team, Chance said last Saturday that he would take Orendorff. On the same night Berry received a letter from Murphy in which the latter stated he did not want Orendorff, and asked Berry to keep him in Los Angeles. Berry is in a quandary. He does not know whether to abide by what Chance says or take Murphy's word for the deal.

Berry objects to going over Chance's head. Chance offered Saturday to leave Orendorff here if Berry would give him an option on other members of the Los Angeles team. This Berry refused to do. On the same night Berry received a letter from Murphy in which the latter stated he did not want Orendorff, and asked Berry to keep him in Los Angeles. Berry is in a quandary. He does not know whether to abide by what Chance says or take Murphy's word for the deal.

NATIONAL MAGNATES VOTING ON MURRAY

If He Is Not Elected to His Salary He'll Fight in Court—His Managerial Ability Boosted by McCann.

NEW YORK, Jan. 11.—Pending a decision by the board of directors of the National League as to the validity of his unexpired two-year contract with the Philadelphia club, Billy Murray, recently deposed as the Quakers' leader, has made his home in New York.

Murray expects something to develop locally in a day or two and then he may again change his address. He was in consultation with President Lynch, of the National League, yesterday, for a short time, but did not learn that the board of directors, of which Lynch is an ex-officio member, had done anything about his case.

Murray is playing a waiting game. Before he has to go to law to collect his money he must get a decision from the board of directors of the National League. If this decision is unsatisfactory, the matter properly can be brought before the National Commission. If Garry Herrmann, Ran Johnson and Tun Lynch do not care to make the new Philadelphia club owners do the right thing, then Murray can appeal to the courts with his iron-bound contract. The National League directors now are taking a mail vote on Murray's case.

Not Starving or Worried.

Murray isn't worried about starving to death this year. "When I was fired by President Engel recently," said W. J. yesterday, "all the managerial jobs in the first-class minor leagues were filled. I suppose I could catch on with some team in the B and C classifications, but I intend to stand on my rights and see what will happen to me through my intention to enforce a contract entered into in good faith between myself and a corporation having a franchise in the oldest baseball organization in the land."

Murray, taking a backward peek at the history of the Philadelphia club, cannot see where he has not done as well as any of his predecessors in the managerial line. "I have been boss of the Quakers for three years, and in that time we finished third, fourth, and fifth."

Defends Himself.

"In 1908 Sherwood Magee failed to hit up to the notch I expected, or he should have bettered our position of the year previous. At that time we knocked the Giants out of the pennant by taking three games from them in a week. Our boxman in these victories was a man named Covaleski, who was no $11.00 beauty and for whom the Philadelphia club had to pay nothing at all outside the expenses of a self-appointed scout."

"Last season the Phillies did not come up to expectations, but neither did several other clubs. At that time we caused the Pirates, Cubs, and Giants all sorts of trouble. The men I added to the Philadelphia club are Covaleski, McQuillan, Moran, Moore, Knabe, Jacklitsch, Corridon, and Grant. They let me make up a nucleus for a winning club. Good ball players cannot be bought these days; they have to be developed."

McCann Makes a Talk.

Gene McCann, who once was a sort of assistant manager for Billy Murray in Jersey City, is a great admirer of the deposed Philadelphia chief. "It is lucky for the Phillies that Murray ever worked for them," said the assistant scout of the Highlanders yesterday. "Through friendship for Murray, Bob Davis, owner of the Skeeters, let the Phillies have the pick of the West Side club every year. It would not matter if the Jersey City team got an offer of $5,000 for a player from some other club than Philadelphia. Murray would have the right to take the athlete at half that sum."

"I managed the Skeeters in the last year of the season of 1908. Our star hitters then were Ed Mason, Earl Moore, and Ed Laffite. Murray didn't

GAITHERSBURG HAS MANY OPEN DATES

The Gaithersburg Athletic Club basketball team has the following open dates: January 17, February 3, 10, 17, 24, March 3, 10, 17, 24 and 31, all being Thursdays. Any team desiring games out of town on Thursday night will be guaranteed traveling expenses. Games in the city will be held at the Gaithersburg Athletic Club, Philadelphia, on Friday night.

fancy the Lockport boy on account of his peculiar disposition, and he wasn't stuck, either, on Moore, because Earl for two seasons had been doing poor work. I tried to sell Moore to a National League club for $2,500, and couldn't do so. Then I told Murray that I thought Earl had entirely recovered from the strain in his side that had induced the Cleveland and Highland managers to let him go, and that he would be a good man to take a chance on, much better than Laffite, who was a comparative youngster and whose worth a high price to us. The result was that the Phillies got Moore for $1,500 and we sold Laffite to Detroit for $5,000.

Moore's Hard Luck.
"In 1909 Earl was the Phillies' star pitcher, and he would have had a commanding percentage of victories had he not been drawing hard citizens like Mordecai Brown, Christy Mathewson, and Howard Carnitz when he went up against the three clubs that were in the first division. As for Laffite, he lasted only a short time with the Tigers and soon went back to the Philadelphia League, where he is to be next season. However, he will not always remain on the Powers circuit. He is young and has plenty of time to reach the big show again and stay there."

Signs that the baseball season of 1910 is rapidly approaching came yesterday when a spectacular youth who had seen sixteen summers invade the office of the New York American League Club, in the Reed & Barton building, and asked to be placed on the roster. Frank Farrell, of the Highlanders, turned down the application in a far from gentle manner and immediately instructed Secretary Tom Davis to write to the National Commission asking that a rule be passed against the "Babys." "We had one once," said F. J., "and he caused me more trouble than all the other boys who have come along since. No more of that kind."

Larry Lajole, deposed manager of the Naps, once had a mascot for his team. The mascot mascot must now be a rule in the baseball world, for after being with the Cleveland club for a fortnight he skipped out of the clubhouse with merchandise and jewelry belonging to the players which was valued at $200.

If Miller Huggins joins the Brooklyn Infants next season, and if Harry Lumley is retained by Head Nurse Fahlen, it will be no more than a foregone conclusion that the "Judge" will be on the same team. Hug and Lum were together in St. Paul in 1908 and 1909, and the Apostles were in the outlaw American Association.

According to rumor, Fred Lake, manager of the Boston Doves, is in New York for the purpose of making some rule be passed against the "Babys." Lake couldn't be found yesterday, but neither could his wife. The series learn what men he possibly could offer to McGraw whom John J. would want.

LANGFORD'S WORK IMPRESSES FANS

Memphis Fight Followers Like the Way He Beat "Dixie Kid."

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Jan. 11.—Sports here today declare that on last night's showing, Sam Langford, the Boston "Red baby," would have a splendid chance if matched with some of the men "higher up" in the pugilistic world. Langford knocked out George White, the "Dixie Kid," in the third round of what was to have been a ten-round go. White spent most of the time in the ring, and in the third round he was knocked out. White had never been defeated and he was regarded as a good fighter in this section of the country.

About All In

JACK CHESBRO,
Spitball Specialist, Will Probably Retire
From Diamond to Enter
Lumber Business.

CHESBRO TURNED BACK BY BOSTON

Once Great Twirler Appeared
Hopeless Case to Red Sox Boss.

BOSTON, Jan. 11.—The Boston American League club has turned Jack Chesbro back to the New York Highlanders. John I. Taylor last fall bought Chesbro under a provisional agreement with the idea of taking him South in the spring in the hope that the once great pitcher would show a return to his real form. Chesbro accomplished nothing with the Red Sox, and now it appears that Taylor is convinced that it would be useless to try him on the training trip.

It is thought in baseball circles here that Chesbro will retire from the diamond and devote himself to his lumber business in Conway, Mass.

MALONEY WINNER IN FAST BATTLE

Shades Buck Miller, But Has to Hustle—Club Changes Hands.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 11.—Teddy Maloney defeated Buck Miller in the wind-up at the New Philadelphia Athletic Club last night.

The bout was a hot one from start to finish. In the early round Maloney had a big lead. In the second round he knocked Miller down twice and was sent to the mat once himself. Miller's best round was the fifth, when he fought Teddy all over the ring and landed many times. Maloney had the better of the sixth and was entitled to the verdict.

There were only two other bouts. Tommy Buck beat Ed McCloskey in a fast six-round encounter and Le Spickler beat Frank Smith in a bout that went the limit. Before the wind-up, Johnny Spoltola was introduced and the announcement made that he had purchased the interest in the club formerly owned by Mike Costello.

HOW STOCK RACES HELP AUTO TRADE

Sustained Speed in Competition
Surest Means of Detecting Weak Points.

By HARRY WARD.
The advantages of automobile competition have been very clearly set forth by C. C. Hanch who is connected with a large motor car manufacturing concern in Indianapolis.

He states that so long as road and track racing was confined to automobiles designed for racing purposes only there was no general interest in the events except from the standpoint of sport, pure and simple. A performance, good or bad, of a specially built racing car conveyed no information to the prospective buyer of an automobile, as to the quality of any particular make of stock car. Furthermore, the manufacturer of the specially built racing car was not particularly benefited by his racing experience, so far as his standard stock models were concerned.

The advent of the stock chassis race, however, has revolutionized public sentiment relative to road and track races, and has been of incalculable benefit to the manufacturers in the development of standard stock models, and, incidentally, of great value to the buying public. In this form of sport the car is subjected to its limit of endurance.

As Mr. Hanch very aptly says, there is no boy's play about road and track racing. It is very serious business and calls for the highest degree of intelligence and the utmost endurance upon the part of both driver and car. It is hard to realize to what enormous strains a car is subjected in going hundreds of miles at a mile-a-minute clip. The vibrations and stresses are so great that the slightest weakness in material, design or workmanship are brought out. All of this information and experience redounds to the advantage of both manufacturer and buyer if the car is a stock model. Thousands of miles of ordinary driving may fail to develop a weak point which would be staged out by a few hundred miles of racing speed.

"Following the practice started a year ago of dividing a percentage of its earnings among the employees, the Ford Motor Company distributed last week the sum of $29,562 as a token of appreciation for faithful service rendered," said Claude Miller, of Miller Brothers Auto and Supply Company, a dealer here for the Ford. The money was divided according to years of service.

The Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company, which maintains a branch in this city, has emphatically denied the report that it has been absorbed by other interests. The control of the company remains exactly where it has been, and its organization, according to the company's statement.

The new board of governors of the Automobile Club of Washington will meet within the next few days to map out the work for the year. At that time President H. Chadwick Hunter will appoint the house committee for 1910.

The executive committee of the American Automobile Association, of which A. G. Batchelder is chairman, met today at the association's office in New York. A number of important matters were brought up for discussion, and a definite campaign for the year was decided upon.

Practically the entire sales force of the Cook & Stoddard Company is in New York attending the automobile show. J. M. Stoddard left Sunday, George Weaver and Theodore Barnes, Jr. left yesterday, and Rudolph Jose will go over some time today. The four main acts of the show, as the company are being exhibited at the show.

The Brush car, handled in this city by the Belmont Garage Company, enjoys the distinction of being the lowest priced car on the market that is fitted with a magneto as regular equipment.

W. B. McBurney, of the Pope Automobile Company, is in New York attending the automobile show.

Over in Philadelphia is a man who is at the head of a big clothing concern.

He drinks whiskey—it helps him—but he likes good whiskey.

He has a friend in the whiskey business—and he used to go to him for his home supply.

"Every time," said the clothing man, "that chap sold me whiskey it was worse than I got the time before."

Then somebody recommended MONTICELLO SPECIAL RESERVE—and the clothing man is satisfied.

AUTOMOBILE SHOW STIRRING GOTHAM

All the Exhibits Strictly American Makes and Freaks Are Missing.

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—"The Show Beautiful," and no sporting or industrial exhibition ever given in this country so well earns the title, now in progress at Madison Square Garden under the auspices of the Association of Licensed Automobile Manufacturers.

The crowd has been a record-breaking one since the hour the doors were thrown open, the capacity of the building taxed at the popular visiting hours. In the elegance and originality of the equipments of these American automobiles our body builders have far outstripped those of Europe and have cast into shadow the best of the importations from the Olympia show. Mechanically our automobiles have reached standard and accepted forms of construction, just as have the European cars, so there is only a toss-up choice between them.

All American Cars.
Beautiful bodies have been brought out for this show by dozens of makers. From the standpoint of novelty and uniqueness the torpedo bodies are the feature. They are all many forms and exhibit a wide range of inventive originality.

All of the cars shown are the product of Americans, there not being a single foreign car included in the list, and the prices quoted are for goods free from high protective duty. There are 15 cars selling for under $1,000, 12 between $1,000 and $2,000, 13 between $2,000 and $3,000, 21 between $3,000 and $4,000, 12 between $4,000 and $5,000, 12 between $5,000 and $6,000, and 11 named class are five open and six enclosed bodies all combining the very best that it is possible to obtain.

Colonel Pope Talks.
Col. George Pope, chairman of the show committee, is particularly well satisfied with the exhibit. He said this morning that he considered this the greatest exhibition of cars ever held.

"There is," he said, "an entire absence of what is generally termed 'freaks,' everything being what might be considered standard quality. I do not see, last, and not in the least expertly made. It looks to me as if the makers had put every effort into the refinements and developments, and it would hardly be proper for me, as chairman of the committee, to express any opinion as to the way the show is staged or managed. I feel, however, that the exhibit, as a whole, reflects the greatest credit upon the American manufacturer and gives to the public at large that in matters connected with the motor industry the American maker stands second to none."
